

Personal Integrity Oath

For NAIC professional designations to retain their value and significance, Candidates and Designees must uphold the highest standards of honesty and integrity. In particular, Candidates and Designees are expected to act ethically in:

- presenting admission materials (such as applications, vitae, etc.) for the review and consideration of the Insurance Regulator Professional Designation Program Advisory Board;
- submitting portfolios, assignments, essays, and other projects for credit toward an NAIC designation or the renewal of an NAIC designation;
- completing and/or discussing examinations administered by the NAIC; and
- adhering to all online proctoring rules.

To affirm their commitment to NAIC's ethical standards, Designation Candidates must agree to the Personal Integrity Oath upon their admittance to the Program.

In the event members of the Insurance Regulator Professional Designation Program Advisory Board determine that a Candidate or Designee has violated the ethical standards affirmed in this oath the following sanctions will be imposed:

- forfeiture of NAIC scholarship funds;
- automatic failure of associated courses without refund of tuition or fees;
- six-month suspension from the Insurance Regulator Professional Designation Program;
- compulsory re-take of the course or courses (including exams) associated with the infraction no less than six months following the suspension period.

Personal Integrity Oath

I pledge to abide by the ethical standards set forth by the Insurance Regulator Professional Designation Program Advisory Board pertaining to Program admittance, course completion, general coursework,

- proper identity verification will be provided. I will not allow others to be present within the testing environment; I will remain visible at all times; I will not use study notes or a separate internet browser or electronic documents while