described in the bill. APRA was designed to apply to organizations that gather and monetize data or sell it. NCIGF believes it is not an intended entity. The language in APRA may not be precise enough to exclude the NCIGF, GSI and the guaranty funds. NCIGF subcommittee has put together language to exclude NCIGF from this bill or future bills. She said the NCIGF is in communication with congressional staff to discuss why NCIGF, GSI and guaranty funds should be excluded, because data is not monetized, aggregated, or sold. Data is used to fulfil statutory obligations to pay and settle covered claims. Compliance with APRA may require more staff that would be unduly burdensome.
